

LOCAL OUTREACH FIELD PACK · MANCHESTER

Win local clients in Heald Green & Chorlton.

A one-week plan to land barbers, takeaways, restaurants and local traders as web design clients — with ready-to-use pitches, a day-by-day route, and a printable call sheet.

Heald Green

Family businesses — Finney Lane & Outwood Road. Barbers, takeaways, salons, dentists, trades, estate agents.

Chorlton

Independents — Beech Road & Wilbraham Road. Cafés, restaurants, barbers, boutiques, wellness, bars.

Don't sell websites — offer a free review

The golden rule

Never lead with "do you want a website". Lead with a free, no-strings review of their current site. It's friendly, it's valuable, and it opens the door. Your only goal on a first visit is to leave with a name and a way to follow up.

KNOW THEIR PAIN

What to say to each type

Barber shops

Most people find a barber on their phone. Angle: online booking + a gallery of your cuts + top of Google Maps. "Stop losing walk-ins to the barber that shows up first on Google."

Takeaways

They're bleeding 20–30% commission to Just Eat/Uber. Angle: your own website + online ordering, commission-free. "Keep the full order value — your own ordering page pays for itself fast."

Restaurants

Angle: online bookings, a beautiful menu, and glowing reviews up front. "Look as good online as the food tastes — and fill more tables on quiet nights."

Local traders

Plumbers, electricians, builders, joiners. Angle: get found for '[trade] near me', show reviews, get quote requests. "Exactly what we did for Heat On here in Manchester."

Gardeners & landscapers

Angle: a before-and-after photo gallery, "get a free quote" button, and top spot for 'gardener near me'. "Your work sells itself — let's put the photos where local customers are searching."

Your three offers to lead with

1 · A free, honest review of their current site 2 · A free Website Checklist (billydigitals.com/free-website-checklist.html) 3 · £100 off if they book this month.

Your pitches

WALK-IN (20 SECONDS, IN PERSON)

"Hi, I'm Ali — I run Billy Digitals, I build websites for local businesses here in Manchester. I'm not here to hard-sell you anything — I just looked at [business] and I reckon your website could be pulling in a lot more customers than it is. I'd happily do you a free, no-strings review and show you a couple of quick wins. Who's the best person to send that to?"

BARBER / TAKEAWAY OPENER (TWEAK THE WALK-IN)

Barber: "...most of your customers are booking on their phone these days — I can show you how to get to the top of Google and take bookings online."

Takeaway: "...I help takeaways set up their own online ordering so you're not handing 25% to Just Eat on every order."

HANDLE THE "NO"

Objection handling

- "We already have a website." — "Perfect, that's exactly who my free review is for. I'll show you what's helping and what's quietly costing you. Worst case, you find out it's spot on."
- "Not interested / no budget." — "No worries at all — can I leave you the free checklist so you've got it if you ever want it?" (still gets your brand in their hands)
- "Just send me some info." — "Will do — what's the best email? I'll pop the free review over today." (always leave with a contact)
- "How much is a website?" — "It depends what you need, so I quote every job individually — no hourly surprises. Let me send the free review first, then I'll give you a clear fixed price."

Your call sheet

Fill one row per business. Tick when you've sent the free review, and note a follow-up date so no lead goes cold.
